G. H. MAY

It is not the right of members of the Legislative Assembly to call for returns from the Government upon subjects affecting the public interests, and were it not the duty of the Government to make such returns when called for, probably the people of this Province would never have been made aware why or wherefore his Excellency the Lieutenant Governor refused his sanction to the four measures passed last session of Parliament, but reserved them for the pleasure of his Excellency the Governor General, viz. the Military and Naval Settlers' Act, the Qualification and Registration of Voters Act, the Wild Land Tax Act, and the Legitimacy Act. The return sent down to the House on Friday last, in compliance with a motion to that effect, clearly shows whatever of mystery there may have been about that matter. After the House had deliberately passed those Bills, and after they had been fully and freely discussed, the Ministry in Executive Council, because they did not approve them, advised the Governor not to give them his sanction, but to reserve them for the pleasure of the Governor General, and accompany them with the Attorney General's reasons why they should be disallowed. We do not offer the slightest objection to the constitutionality of such a course on the part of the Government. To sanction or refuse to sanction any measure passed by the Legislature, is a prerogative the Governor can exercise at his pleasure; but it is one seldom or never enforced under a responsible system of government, except by and with the advice and consent of his Privy Councilors. Hence, however displeased the public may be at such an exercise of gubernatorial power, no one acquainted with the working of responsible government, would ever think of holding the Governor responsible therefor. He but carried out the recommendation of his responsible advisers, and if any one is to blame for defeating the action of the Legislature upon the above recited measures, it is the gentlemen who at that time were his Excellency's advisers; and were they still in office, the House would have it in their power to call them to an account therefor. The Government of the day is directly or indirectly responsible for every Act that is passed by the Legislature, to which the Governor appends his signature; and hence it appears only reasonable and proper that in cases where they have grounds for believing that any particular measure contains provisions adverse to the public interests, or beyond the power of the House to deal with, they should use their authority as Ministers of the Crown to prevent such a measure becoming law. This is all the more necessary where there is but one Legislative Chamber, because it constitutes the only check the Government has upon the House in the event of hasty, ill-considered, or mischievous legislation. With regard to the Military and Naval Settlers' Act, it would seem that the exceptions taken thereto by ex-Attorney General McCreight were well founded, viz. that it was "in conflict with the 11th Section of the Terms of Union with Canada," and therefore must be treated as illegal," and were endorsed by the Deputy Minister of Justice, who says in his report "the operation of this Act would be in conflict with the 11th Section of the Terms of Union of British Columbia with Canada, and he recommends therefore that the assent of the Governor General be withheld therefrom." As for the Wild Land Tax Act, it is very apparent from the action taken by the late Ministry with reference thereto, subsequent to its passage through the House, that they were opposed to the principle of the Bill, and sought to effect by a side-wind what they knew they had not the power to do openly on the floor of the House. We are sure it was never contemplated by the author of the Bill, nor by those who gave it their support, that Railway lands or lands held in trust for Her Majesty, should come under the provisions of that Act; and hence Mr. McCreight, had he felt so disposed, might have pointed out the weak points of the Bill to the Governor, as he subsequently did to the Governor with a view to kill it, and thus the measure would have been defeated. The late Ministry pursued in relation to this measure, they gained a temporary triumph over the House; but the Bill will doubtless be brought forward again, and of those imperfections which induced the Governor General to withhold his assent thereto, and then the Lieutenant Governor will have no valid excuse for withholding his sanction to a measure long demanded by the people as essentially necessary to promote the best interests of the country. The Qualification and Registration of Voters Act was, of the four, the most objectionable and the one most likely to be disallowed. It, however, has received the Governor General's assent, and is now law. It is an illiberal, because partial, measure; and reflects no credit upon the Legislature that passed it, nor upon the Dominion Government that recommended its sanction by the Governor General. Of the fate of the Legitimacy Act, we know nothing as yet, the return sent down being perfectly silent in reference thereto. As to the legal features of the case, we have no opinion to express. We believe the measure to be a good one, because it is a just one; and hope it may yet become law. Had the late Ministry continued to hold office up to the present time the House would most likely have called them to account for their action in reference to those Bills; but as they have ceased to hold office, nothing more, we presume, will be done about the matter.

That Postoffice.—As there is considerable discussion going on at present about the creating of new postoffices, the undersigned is prepared to make them in any quantity. Also, Blank Books and every description of Binding and Ruling done. R. T. WILLIAMS, at Messrs. T. M. Hibben & Co's.
